trading activities along with ensuring agriculture production. Moreover some women decided to stay within premises to serve god. These women came to be known as DEVADASIS who began to look after different activities. They even began to perform classical dance as a pious act in praise of god known as BHARAT-NATYAM which emerged to be the first classical dance of India. (Total-8)

In this way it can be concluded that cholas contributed in every sphere with great zeal & enthusiasm that gave a definite identity to south India in cultural traditions of India.

Scanned by CamScanner