

1. (e) Which of the aspects of Indian Foreign Policy you think need to be reworked upon in coming years and why? (10 Marks)

Ans 1e) India's foreign policy has certain core principles on which it rests upon like sovereignty (Panchsheel), ^{S-S}cooperation and contains some pragmatic elements as well according to changing world order.

Certain aspects that need to be worked upon:-

1) Improving credibility:-

According to ORF's Harsh V. Pant, India's performance w.r.t. delivering projects on time is really poor whether in neighbouring countries or in other countries.

2) Multiple alignment in place of
↓
issue based NAM.

↓
as said by FM S. Jaishankar.