

Question
No.

The Sample Answers have been constructed to train students about how to write relevant and succinct answers in exam condition.

Applicability to study contemporary societies:

1. Unsuitability to highly complex and modern societies where a lot of migration takes place.
2. Arbitrary sample set may lead to skewed findings.
3. This may give rise to a new form of racism.
4. A national study is a stationary concept while a culture is ever evolving. So a national character study needs to be regularly updated so that it portrays a true picture of the society under consideration.